| EXPECT | You should not claim that you wrote it (since this would be a lie), nor should you attempt to copyright it (this would be fruitless as it is a work of the US government and therefore not subject to copyright). NIST would appreciate any credit you can give for this work. One line may suffice (as far as I'm concerned) although there should be something to the effect that this software was produced for research purposes. No warantee, guarantee, or liability is implied. My management is always interested in feedback on our work. If you would like to send letters of praise describing how Expect has helped your business, we would be delighted. Letters (on letterhead please) are strong evidence used by policy makers when deciding where every dollar goes. If you want to send these letters to NIST directly, you may send them to the following individuals: Robert Hebner, DirectorNISTAdmin Bldg, Rm A-1134Gaithersburg, MD 20899 Ric Jackson, Manufacturing Engineering LaboratoryNISTBldg 220, Rm B-322Gaithersburg, MD 20899 Steve Ray, Manufacturing Systems Integration DivisionNISTBldg 220, Rm A-127Gaithersburg, MD 20899 |  |

This code was originally developed as a Senior Thesis by Michael Cornwell at the Concurrent Systems Laboratory (now part of the Storage Systems Research Center), Jack Baskin School of Engineering, University of California, Santa Cruz. <http://ssrc.soe.ucsc.edu/>

This package is meant to be an up-to-date replacement for the ucsc-smartsuite and smartsuite packages, and is derived from that code.
